Tells About Camp Brest

Letter from Harry F. Bird relates some of his experiences at the Big Debarcation Port.

The following letter was received by Mr. Robert Bird from his son, Harry, who is stationed at the big Base Hospital at Brest, France, where the wounded American soldiers are received before being sent home.

It is the American Army camp at Brest concerning the sanitary conditions of which so much criticism was written in the newspapers a few months ago. Harry is assigned to duty in the laboratory connected with the Base hospital.

Dear Father and Mother:— For some reason or other the mail has been held up during the past ten days. There seems to have been very little mail of any kind come in. I received a letter from Mother dated March 17th and addressed to Fort Bouguen. It was forwarded to me. I have received two packages of papers from Father. The last ones were dated March 27 or 28 up to April 7th. Those are the dates as I remember them; the papers are over at the house so I cannot look up the dates just now.

Today has surely been a beautiful day. It makes one feel so good. I am in the best of health and feeling like a new feathered "bird" in the springtime. I am surely getting hungry for some real good cooking. "So have the old or young rooster fattened and lots of fruit preserves and cakes and such ready for me. We are still hearing all kinds of tales as to when we will be sent home. The latest is that we will be sent home probably sometime in August. The camp here is supposed to be closed by June 15th, but it only takes five minutes to change that order.

You have written once or twice about the camp here. I am not located in the camp at all. The laboratory is located down town, and our house or the Base Laboratory Annex is located about seven minutes walk from the laboratory.

Brest is rather a dirty city, but I have been worse, much worse. The streets are nearly all paved, so that there is not much mud around. To sum it up I might say that Brest is a typical French city. I was talking to some fellows this evening from the 33rd division. They are just back from Germany on their way home. They say that Brest is an awful hole, and that they would rather do six months duty in Coblenz, Germany or almost any other German city than one month here.

Where the real complaint was centered was about the various camps, mainly Pontanezen. I was located out there in January and that was when I took sick. I had a severe cold when I arrived there, and the conditions being such as they were probably furthered my sickness, but at that time the camp was in pretty bad condition. Now the camp looks like a little city and is as clean as can be. Of course when trains for three or four days steady why naturally the roads become very muddy and bad, but now they have nice board walks all over the camp. It seems to me that it is in as good condition as any camp could be in this climate and country. But that is not saying what it was before Christmas.

The Great Northern steamship came in the other day on a record trip and was in dock for only seven hours. It was scheduled to be in dock here only four hours, but was delayed. They expect to make the trip back in about four and one half days. Some travelling!

According to the reports in the papers there was about as much excitement in New York on May 1st as there was here. On account of the Socialists all American soldiers were restricted to their quarters on that day; that is they were allowed no liberty on the streets. We were also restricted the day before and the day afterward. I suppose because they thought the excitement might begin early and last over. I do not know what went on down town other than the gates of the city were closed that day and all of the stores closed. All I saw was a short parade and some men making a lot of noise. The big theatre burned down the next day. I think perhaps I sent you a post card picture of this theatre. They do not have very much of a fire-fighting apparatus here. Cedarville could put it all over them with their old hand engine, for all they have is a hose cart and a few ladders. The hose is about half the size of ours. The city has water works but the pressure is not very strong.

I attended the second banquet of the Masonic Club of Brest last Saturday night. There is to be another one this Saturday night but I am going to lay off this one, for once a week is too many for me. They do not cost very much but just enough that I want to save the $1.25 until my leave comes thru. We have to have such things to keep up the spirit of the boys and keep us from getting home sick. This Masonic Club has made conditions much more pleasant

WHAT THE FILES SAY.

Issue November 5, 1892.
The 12 year old child of Andrew Cohn, who lives south of town, was run over by a threshing machine last Monday and frightfuly injured. His right arm was mashed and a number of scalp wounds inflicted through Dr. Cunningham states the boy will live.

In talking with J. R. Orr yesterday morning he informs us that during the entire experience in the line business he never knew business to be as good as now. He is running to full capacity, four cars a week.

Charles Stevenson died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Albert Hopping, Wednesday.

Issue November 12, 1892.
Jim Duffield shot himself in the hand Monday while fooling with a revolver.

Already there is talk as to who will be our next postmaster. Among the number we hear the following names mentioned: James A. McMillan, J. E. Townsley, Luther Townsley, Will McMillan and Dick Alexander.

Dr. Cunningham and W. L. Marshall left Tuesday to join the hunters at West Branch, Mich.

The Republicans never did "suffer such a defeat, Illinois and Ohio going Democratic, the first time in history in a presidential year. We are sorry to say that although Whitelaw Reid was well and favorably known, yet his unpopularity brought defeat for the ticket. In Cedarville the election was very quiet, more voters staying at home than ever before.

Issue November 19, 1892.
John Harbison has moved his family to Lima where he owns extensive time interests.

Judge Shearer was elected as Circuit Judge by a majority of 25; the usual Republican majority is 2600.

Charles, the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Barr, had his right ankle dislocated Monday.

Issue November 26, 1892.
Greene County Democrats will celebrate their victory Tuesday night by a gala time in Xenia.

Ed, the seventeen-year-old son of Mr. Daniel Dean, who has been attending school in Columbus, came home to spend Thanksgiving and last night about twenty-five of his former schoolmates called on him and gave him a pleasant surprise.

J. R. Orr has purchased six head of Polled Jersey cattle. There are only three herds of this strain in the U. S.

THE GAS SITUATION.
Last Monday the Supreme Court granted permission for Ohio and Pennsylvania to begin original proceedings against the state of West Virginia to test the law recently passed restricting the piping of gas from its borders.

Thousands of gas consumers in Ohio especially this section, will be hit hard if the state does not win its contention that gas is a natural product, same as coal, oil and minerals and if one can be restricted so can the other.

The case is returnable October 6th and gas consumers will watch the proceedings with considerable interest.

NOTICE TO STOCK OWNERS.
Persons that have stock running at large on the streets and alleys of the village are liable and will be so held. No other warning will be given.

NEW PRESIDENT RESIGNS; Y. M. C. A. PLAN DEAD.

The project to turn Antioch College over to the Y. M. C. A. for a national school backed by that organization has failed to materialize and the new president, Dr. Grant Perkins, has resigned after a short stay in Yellow Springs.

It is said that the plan was nothing more than a promotion of certain interests and the trustees were lead to believe that the national organization was behind it. Dr. Perkins says that no effort has been made to raise the $1,000,000 endowment promised and that there is none in prospect and for that reason cannot afford to give any more of his time to the institution.

The moneyed men that were depended upon to subscribe liberally to this fund could not be reached. W. W. Weaver of the Cleveland Y. M. C. A. placed the proposition before the trustees and a number of the board resigned to give their seats to the new management.

At first Yellow Springs people were inclined to place considerable faith in the building up of the school by the Y. M. C. A. but as the days passed many were convinced that it was a promotion scheme only. Raising a million dollars now by the Y. M. C. A. would be quite a task in view of the fact that the organization does not stand in public favor as it did before the war, regardless of the good work accomplished in this country in the years past.

RAILROAD COMPANY RELIEVED

Coroner R. L. Haines has rendered his verdict over the death of William Schauder, sr., Dayton soap manufacturer, who was killed at the W. Market street crossing on May 11, in Xenia. The Coroner held that the railroad company was not to blame in as much as it had complied with the law as to signals. The crossing is one of the worst in the country and at the present time there is no protection to traffic from the west who have no view of the railroad until on the track owing to factory buildings on each side of the street.

M. E. CHURCH GOES OVER.

Rev. J. W. Patton, of the M. E. church informs us that his congregation has gone over the top in the centenary movement. This congregation had a quota of $10,000 to be raised in five years. At first it was thought an impossible task to raise this amount but a survey was taken of the congregation and plans made for the campaign with the result that the quota was over subscribed. The yearly quota will be $2,012.

Karl Bull, EDITOR

Entered at the Post-Office, Cedarville, O., October 31, 1887, as second class matter.

MAY 30, 1919

The "can't be done spirit" has been laid aside as a result of the war.

It will be less trouble from now on for men to remain on the water wagon.

A slim chance in early life has made many a successful business man of today.

A Ben Franklin saying was: "He that waits upon fortune is never sure of a dinner."

Now a state official is trying to figure out that it will be necessary to pay the $1,000 tax to sell soft drinks.

The mayor of Greater Baltimore is to be a Republican. The Republicans have been able to elect only three mayors in that city since the civil war.

We all wonder over the terrible experience of the soldier, boys in the trenches when gas shell were falling about. But who ever thought that the Germans would take up an idea originated by a pole cat?

A man does not have to be a Republican or a Democrat to be in politics or know something about it. If you want to see real politics mix up in a church fight or take the trouble to see how the higher-ups keep control of affairs.

Saturday night ended the wet spell in Ohio and a wet day it was for Old John. There will be no occasion from now on for the Saturday night, as well as the mid-day excursions, during the summer to some neighboring life saving station.

Well everything is looking better for the good of the country. Nick Longworth of Cincinnati, whose ears always to the ground on political matters, comes out for suffrage for women and that congress will not meddle in the wine and light beer controversy, which will not add anything to Nick's popularity in Cincinnati.

The fellow that is visiting in this section, we don't know his name or who pays his salary, ordering people to cut barberry bushes as they damage the wheat, has to make a living and we suppose in keeping his present job he is doing a favor by providing a place for some other fellow that needs work.

We have been reading reports of how neighboring town M. E. congregations have "gone over the top" in the Centenary movement but Cedarville like, our own congregation went over with ease. It does seem that the impossible has not hit this community yet.

The past congress while it made many blunders it blundered on one thing, government operation of certainties, that has been pleasing to the opponents of government ownership of the railroads, etc. The management of the railroads last year cost the government 235 million dollars and the service was wrecked so that government ownership is a dead letter for many years to come. While the administration has been favorable to such control it has killed the very principle it has advocated.

There are two classes of people that have never been paid enough for their services, the preachers and the school teachers. Thousands of men have given their lives for the cause of the "Crown" and laid down their work to exist off of a small stipulation, set by some church board that only had limited funds. More money for the ministers and a little less for over head expenses of the missions, would probably cause the minister's effort to be more appreciated. In years past the school teacher was not regarded much more than common labor, so much so that people in the country districts did not care to give board. A lot of our ills of today are due to the fact that low salaries for the preachers and teachers has driven men and women into other lines, and the public is suffering from it now.

"AS A WOMAN THINKS"

This is the title of this year's Senior Class Play of Cedarville College. The play was very carefully selected from a vast array of clever comedies. The play is one which is especially adapted for amateur production and will be acted out by Seniors whose being thoroughly trained in the various parts. Each part is to be given by men and women whose natural personalities closely fit those of the characters to be portrayed.

The play runs as follows: "Mrs. Wescan a mother of the period a slave to her house and family, attempts to clean up the disarranged sitting room and in the course of the morning's work learns several things to the disadvantage of her family. Her ideals me with several serious falls when she is brought face to face with her husband's ill temper, her eldest daughter's extravagance, Beth's taste for bad company, Dolly's addiction to slang and chewing gum, and Will's use of cigarettes to say nothing of Jotham's stupidity. Suke's dishonesty and her son-in-law's shiftlessness. A visit from the secretary of the modern Science Club who introduces a Hindu lecturer with modern ideas and ideals arouses her to a desire to make her family over to her taste and she immediately puts her resolution into operation to the great amusement of her observers but to the entire success of her plans and the final happiness of all concerned unless it be the pastor and his wife, who are but relics of a bygone age. Each character is a distinct individual and each and everyone has a hand in the comedy which ends, not as it for a time threatens in an insane asylum but in a renewed honeymoon and happy home.

This will be the last time the Seniors will have an opportunity to entertain the public in anything of this kind and they are pushing every effort to make it a success. Everybody is welcome to come and enjoy this last night together. Will you be there? When? Monday evening June 2, 1919. Play opens Saturday May 31, 1919.

STERLING QUALITY

Millwork
AT DIRECT
Mill Prices

THE ground on which we solicit your patronage is that we offer a better quality of millwork—better than is usually sold by mail or through a dealer—the best that can be had at any price. And we design you new styles.

Our mills are equipped with the finest and most accurate machinery ever invented. We run sanders, planers, moulders, etc., slower than usual, making the work cost us more in order to give you smoother woodwork. Woodwork capable of finer finishing at lower cost.

This front door standard large size and thickness 2 ft. 8 in. by 6 ft. 8 in. by 1 1/4 in. thick in solid white pine. Plain plate No. 5035 AA. . . . $8.65 Bevel plate No. 5035 BB. 9.95

Same size with plain oak veneer. Glazed with plain plate No. 5035 A. . . . $12.30 Bevel plate No. 5035 B. 13.60

Extra Quality. Oak veneer is 3/4 of an inch thick—three times usual thickness. To eliminate chance of blistering veneer is applied with a practically water-proof special glue. Special lead coating and putty is used under glass to prevent moisture coming off the glass from getting into door.

Such a policy would make our prices accordingly higher but for the fact that we save you money in other ways.

Selling costs are cut by selling direct from factory to you. Our fortunate location at greatest hardwood lumber market in the world, and the most advantageous railroad point for manufacturing, enables us to buy better and cheaper; and to ship cheaper.

Write for complete Millwork Catalog. It shows a few select house plans. We quote direct mill prices on every item of rough lumber and finished millwork needed for any house, barn, garage, factory or repair job. Send us your list of materials needed or have your contractor send it, and get our delivered prices. You'll see then that we save you money.

We permit examination of goods. Refund money if you're not satisfied. Get our delivered prices today. See what you would save.
